Exclusion of responsibility

The expressed information and opinions on this website do not constitute a complete description. They do not provide legal opinions, neither scientific, nor concerning health in the broadest sense and do not have to be treated like a substitute at specific advices relative to concrete individual situations. All the information presented on this web site represents knowledge and accessible know-how to date. These informations do not claim to be scientific or medical opinions advice or studies and can be adapted constantly.

We specify expressly that technologies of filtration or softening as well as technologies of dynamization or any other device proposed by the website Dynamized Technologies are not conceived to make of a tap water or an industrial water a therapeutic water or a medical remedy.

In the event of health problems, water coming from our filters, softeners and activators does not release you from your own responsibility to visit your doctor nor to take the ordered drugs. All the statements and information in this web site must be understood as indications.

SA Dynamized Technologies's liability may not be invoked for disruptions or damage inherent to using the Internet, specifically for a breakdown in the service, intrusion from the outside or the presence of computer viruses, or for any other event qualified as force majeure in accordance with the law.

SA Dynamized Technologies cannot be held responsible for the non-fulfilment of the contract entered into in the event of stocks running out or the product not being available, as well as in the event of force majeure, disruptions to or a total or partial strike in the postal services and means of transport and/or communication, flood or fire. SA Dynamized Technologies cannot be held liable for any indirect damage, operating losses, loss of profit, loss of opportunity, damages or expenses that may occur as a result of purchasing the products.

Confidentiality of personal and banking data

Right of access and amendment of data. In order to meet the customer's needs and provide the best possible service, SA Dynamized Technologies is required to record certain details about the customer in its database (company name, VAT n^o, company number, e-mail or postal address, surname, first name, telephone, etc.). The fact of the customer providing SA Dynamized Technologies with this information, via the website at www.biodynamizer.com, by e-mail or any other form of communication, equates to the customer's consent for his/her/its details to be stored in the database or computer files of SA Dynamized Technologies and for those details to be used in the business relations between SA Dynamized Technologies and the customer. This data will be used for customer administration, order management, deliveries, invoicing material and immaterial services, monitoring the customer's solvency, publicity, personalised treatment and the marketing of SA Dynamized Technologies products to customers. The customer may be notified of offers from SA Dynamized Technologies by telephone, post or e-mail. If the customer does not wish to receive this type of information or no longer wishes to receive it, an e-mail should be sent to the SA Dynamized Technologies customer service department at team@biodynamizer.com stating company name, surname, first name and address.

Customer banking information. No banking information provided by customers when a purchase is made is saved, stored or made visible online.

Customer data is processed in accordance with the provisions of directive 2002/58/EC relative to the processing of personal data. In practical terms, this means in particular that:

Customer data of a personal nature may only be gathered and processed in accordance with the purposes stated in these general sales terms and conditions. This means that SA Dynamized Technologies does not sell or market or lease data relating to its customers to any third parties.

Customers have the right at all times to access and amend their data. They also have the right to object to its use, or to verify the accuracy of the data and to correct any errors relating to that data. To do so, all customers need to do is send an e-mail to team@biodynamizer.com clearly stating their details.

Your data will be stored electronically on Office 365-like media in Dynamized Technologies SA databases to give you the right after-sales service. You have the right to address a complaint with the national supervisory authority which deals with the processing of personal data.

Use for statistical purposes relative to browsing the site.
